FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

JANE LIVINGSTON AND LLOYD HERMAN NAMED 1981 MAY SHOW JURORS AT THE CLEVELAND MUSEUM OF ART

Jane Livingston and Lloyd Herman have been chosen as jurors for The Cleveland Museum of Art's 1981 May Show, the annual juried exhibition of work by artists and craftsmen of Ohio's Western Reserve. Herman will be a member of the crafts jury and Livingston will work with the other categories, including painting, sculpture, graphics, photography, and electric. This year's May Show will run from May 6 through June 7.

Lloyd E. Herman is the director of the Renwick Gallery in Washington, D.C., the first national showcase for American crafts, design, and the decorative arts. As a department of the Smithsonian Institution's National Museum of American Art, the Renwick Gallery exhibits the creative accomplishments of American craftsmen and designers and selected exhibitions from other countries. A native of Oregon, Mr. Herman was educated at Oregon's state universities and The American University in Washington, D.C. He has directed the presentation of more than sixty craft and design exhibitions since the Renwick Gallery opened in 1972. In addition, he is the author of American Porcelain: New Expressions in an Ancient Art and serves as a member of the editorial advisory board of The Crafts Report.

Jane Livingston is associate director and chief curator of the Corcoran Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C. A native Californian, she holds degrees from Pomona College and Harvard University. Ms. Livingston was formerly corresponding editor for Art in America and has contributed to Artforum, Studio International, Art and Artists and other arts-related periodicals. At the Corcoran Gallery, she has organized more than 30 exhibitions and in the past five years has served as a juror for over a dozen exhibitions across the country.
